COACH ENLOW SCHEDULES SIX MATCHES FOR SQUAD OF WRESTLING WILDCATS

Trips For Team From Bloomington Indiana to Ames Iowa

16 HUSKIES ON SQUAD

Weights Average From 108 To 175 Pounds

The University Wrestling Squad has an ambitious schedule as indicated by the list of the teams to be met this season. The schedule so far has six matches, and the wrestlers will be some little globe trotters if they are able to make the trips they have booked, their schedule including matches ranging from Bloomington, Indiana to Ames Iowa. Two of these matches, however, are only tentative the match with the University of Indiana coming February 3 and it may be that examinations will interfere with this match. The other uncertain one on the list is the match with the Depaw University Wrestling Squad, the date of this match not having been definitely determined.

The finals as to who would make the wrestling squad were held Tuesday January 10 and Coach Enlow reports that sixteen men were successful in this try out. The men arranged according to their weight are as follows Munford, and Terrell 108 pounds; Waits and Howard 115; Quinn and Maddox 125; Stith and Baird 135; Edwards, Stanfield and Wade 145; Aiken and Neal 158; Robertson, Sanders and Enlow 175 or over.

UNGENTLEMANLY ACTS HANDLED BY COUNCIL

House Presidents Complain Of Conduct of Men Students

The question of the control and management of the dances given Saturday evenings at Patterson Hall and at the sorority houses of the University has been referred to the Student Council of the University. There has been a great amount of complaint in connection with the conduct of the students at these dances and the president and house director of each house feel the importance of enforcing several very necessary rules.

The most important subject before the Council is that of prohibiting the men of the University from attending any of these dances in a condition of intoxication. The Student Council feels that it is the duty of that organization to take the final step in the matter, with the next case which is brought to its attention. Therefore the penalty for the offense of appearing at any of the Patterson Hall or sorority house dances in an intoxicated condition is expulsion from the University.

Careful note of the dances is being taken by the directors of the Halls and houses and each case is to be reported to the Council. Also the girls and men of the University are asked to cooperate and in that way assist in placing the University dances on a higher plane and make possible the continuance of these affairs.

C. E. Drayer of Chicago, Secretary of the American Association of Engineers, will address the Kentucky Chapter of professional engineers on the subject of "The Broader Field for Engineering Service", in Dicker Hall on Thursday, Jan. 19. President S. M. Spears of the local chapter will preside, and all professional engineers and scientific men are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. Drayer is prominent in the engineering world and has exerted a pronounced influence on the engineering organization in the nine years in which he has been associated with this work. He was formerly secretary of the Cleveland Engineering Society and organized the Association of Ohio Technical Societies and also chairman of the Administrative Board of Professional Engineers, and co-editor of "Engineering as a Career," an engineering publication.

RADIO CLUB ADVANCES RAPIDLY IN MEMBERSHIP

The Radio Club held its regular meeting Tuesday evening in the radio room at 7:30. A. B. Cammack was the speaker of the evening and gave a very interesting account of his "Experiences in the Navy With Radio." He was in the navy for two years and most of that time was spent on the U. S. S. Mississippi which operated in Atlantic waters.

This club was reorganized after the war by Cammack and Harry Brailsford, who also had experience in radio operation in the Navy. From a few members the club has grown to be one of the largest and most active on the campus. Messages are received every night from various parts of the country, some of which are sent here to be relayed elsewhere.

Sunday afternoon a sermon was heard over the wireless telephone from Pittsburgh delivered by the former pastor of the Second Presbyterian church in this city. He talked before a wireless phone and thousands all over the country heard him.

Kittens Loose First Net Game to Wesleyan

The Kittens' first basketball match of the season terminated unsuccessfully when the Kentucky Wesleyan quintet defeated the Varsity team by a 24 to 14 score last Saturday night in the Wesleyan gymnasium. The game was interesting and snappy throughout, Wesleyan's victory being due chiefly to the skillful goal-throwing of Miss Harris.

The Kittens fought a hard game and showed good team work and training. Individual stars were Potter and Stevenson. Harriet Felsentool wrenched her knee in the early part of the game and was replaced by Margaret Jameson.

Following is the Kittens' line-up for the game: Center, Potter (4); Forwards, Northcutt (4) and Wilson; Guards, Stevenson (6) and Felsentool. Substitutes: Jameson, Longest, Kraft, Richardson, O. Smith, and Bernice Booth.

GOV. MORROW MAKES PLEA FOR BOND ISSUE TO GENERAL ASSEMBLY

"Condition of State's Charitable and Penal Institutions is Deplorable"

$50,000,000 IS NEEDED

"Investment Worthy of Possibilities of the State."

"Do not be afraid to trust the people our our State as the Legislature of neighboring States which have passed large bond issues for roadbuilding purposes have trusted their people," was the plea made January 16 by Governor Edwin P. Morrow in a special message to the 1922 General Assembly.

The message urged the passage of a bond issue of $50,000,000 for roads and of $5,000,000 for sorely needed repairs on the penal and charitable institutions of the State. "The buildings of these institutions," says the Governor, "are in such poor condition that should a fire occur in any of them, the result would shame Kentucky."

Senators, Representatives, and a crowded gallery listened attentively to the Governor's message, the gist of which follows:

The policy of the State has been to provide biennially money sufficient only to patch and repair the public institutions and roads. There has been no great investment to so prosper and develop business that large dividends should come to the owners of public business—

U. K. BASKETBALL STAGES VICTORY AT LOUISVILLE

Adkins Gathers 16 Points For Local Outfit; King and Lavin Star

The University of Kentucky Basketball squad staged a strong comeback last Tuesday evening when they defeated the University of Louisville to the score of 38 to 14 on the Cardinals' home floor.

The Wildcats thoroughly demonstrated in this game that they had lost none of their old time skill and "pep" despite the case of hard luck they had suffered in the Georgetown clash. The wearers are. ONE BRAND- ONE QUALITY- One Size Package

All our skill, facilities, and lifelong knowledge of the finest tobaccos are concentrated on this one cigarette—CAMEL.

Into this ONE BRAND, we put the utmost quality. Nothing is too good for Camels. They are as good as it's possible to make a cigarette.

Camel QUALITY is always maintained at the same high, exclusive standard. You can always depend on the same mellow-mild refreshing smoothness—the taste and rich flavor of choicest tobaccos—and entire freedom from cigaretty aftertaste.

And remember this! Camels come in one size package only—20 cigarettes—just the right size to make the greatest saving in production and packing. This saving goes straight into Camel Quality. That's one reason why you can get Camel Quality at so moderate a price.

Here's another. We put no useless frills on the Camel package. No "extra wrappers!" Nothing just for show!

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And their added cost must go onto the price or come out of the quality.

One thing—and one only—is responsible for Camels great and growing popularity—

That is CAMEL QUALITY.

"OUR ALTERED ASSOCIATION"

The long discussed amendments to our Alumni Constitution were passed this month as expected and are outlined in the notice in another column. Their main purpose is the throwing wide our ranks so as to welcome our former non-graduating comrades. An effort will now be made to reach every one of these men and let them know of this invitation and privilege which we extend to them. Will you please, each reader of this paragraph, accept this as the first step in thus spreading the good news, and will you please yourself, act as the second step by spreading the information to every ex-C. C. N. Y. man you know? Tell him to communicate directly with the Alumni Bureau, or with its manager, Professor L. S. Burchard, '77, at the College. Tell your friend how much we want him, if he wants us—and hustle him along.

—College of City of New York.

Individual alumni, presidents of the clubs and members of the University Survey Commission alarmed by press reports that the economy program of the legislature may cause a cut in the appropriation asked for the University, have, on their own initiative, written to Governor Edwin P. Morrow and friends in the legislature calling attention to the great need of the University, according to letters to the alumni office.

The reports were that the budget commission, on the grounds of economy to make possible the payment of the state debt, is preparing to recommend practically no increase in the current appropriation of the University. The alumni who have written have called attention to the great need of the University for a larger current appropriation and some relief in the way of buildings to provide for immediate needs.

The executive committee of the general association at a meeting Monday at the Lafayette hotel took steps to obtain wider expressions by the alumni of the need of the University. The University's request for a $500,000 additional appropriation for the next two years and the ten-year building appropriation of $8,000,000 was formally approved.

The committee named the following as an alumni legislative committee to aid the University by its cooperation and support: First congressional district, E. T. Proctor, Paducah; Second district, R. M. Holland, Owensboro Third district, Col. W. A. Duncan, Russellville; Fourth district, Robert E. Mattingly, Lebanon; Fifth district, W. H. Grady, Louisville; Sixth district, Warner P. Sayers, Covington; Seventh district, William Combs, Lexington; Eighth district, John Menfee, Stanford; Ninth district, South Strong, Jackson; Tenth district, George R. Burgess, Louisa; Eleventh district, Ben Bolden, Barbourville. The committee will cooperate with county chairman, to be appointed.

Present at the meeting were Rodman Wiley, president, Louis E. Hillenmeyer, chairman of the executive committee, Howard M. West and Secretary Herbert Graham.

Winchester Club Formed

A live club was formed at Winchester at a meeting Friday evening, January 13 at a dinner at the Brown-Proctoria hotel, at which several Lexington alumni were present, including three officers of the general association. The organization is due largely to the enthusiasm of Rodman Wiley, president of the association, who was host at the dinner.

Davis B. Brabb, ex-'00, was elected president; Mrs. Dudley M. Plummer (Eleanor Sprake) '03, vice president; and Marcus C. Redwine, '19, secretary-treasurer.

From Lexington were present Louis E. Hillenmeyer, '07, vice president of the association, Herbert Graham, '16, secretary; former State Senator John Skain, member of the Lexington club, and life member of the general association. The next meeting will be held the evening of January 27 at the home of Mr. Crab in the Ishmeal Apartments.

There are now 28 active clubs in the association.

Dean Paul P. Boyd spoke at the meeting of the Y. W. C. A. held last Sunday evening at Patterson Hall. His subject was "Making the Best of Things." An added attraction of the program was a solo by Martha McClure.

Dean Boyd said in part: "Life is largely made up of making the best of things as we find them. There are possibilities in even seemingly hopeless situations. If we only look hard enough we can find them."

"One of the hardest things most of us have to learn is to get along with people with whom we are thrown into contact. We do not always like our roommate or our associates in business but we must learn to get along with them and to make the best of things."

"Many of us think we are hampered by our environment. But there are always possibilities where ever we happen to be, although sometimes we have to search hard for them."

"And then there are the obstacles of our own personality and equipment. Sometimes these are the very hardest to overcome. We must learn to profit by defeat and turn it into advantages."

In concluding Dean Boyd said, "Happy-

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

The enthusiasm of the butchering class of Professor Wilford in the College of Agriculture has recently been accelerated by the killing of two high class bullocks. Each of these steers was a pure bred short horn and had been fed by the Experiment Station for the past two years. The first dressed sixty-two per cent and the second sixty-three. Their meat was pronounced by Professor Wilford to be as good as any that has ever been slaughtered on the College Farm. During the winter about eighteen steers and fifty hogs and sheep will be killed.

Dean Thomas P. Copper of the College of Agriculture will be in Washington the week beginning January 23.

He has accepted the invitation of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, to meet other prominent agriculturists for a conference on the economic conditions of present day agriculturists.

THE BOND ISSUE

The governor of Kentucky has recommended the submission to the people of this state two bond issues aggregating fifty-five millions of dollars for roads and public institutions. Of this amount the governor suggests five millions to be used in bettering the penal and educational institutions of the state.

Five millions to cover the needs of institutions which need more than twice that amount allotted to the University would probably be in the neighborhood of one million which would not be more than enough to start the program of improvements as suggested by the survey commission which inspected the University grounds and equipment last year.

The University has hopes of raising its standards equal to those of any school in the country but it cannot do this without first erecting suitable buildings and providing them with the necessary equipment for the proper training of the students. The people of Kentucky expect their sons and daughters to receive a first class education at the University and send them here for that purpose. If they have not the proper class rooms or laboratories or equipment it stands to reason that they cannot receive all that is due to them. If we are to have good citizens we must educate the youths and if we are to have the best citizens we must give them the best education and it is up to the people of Kentucky to provide the students with the proper means of obtaining this education.

The University is the principle medium by which higher education is given to the young men and women of the state and it is laboring along managing to make both ends meet by rigid economy. A million dollars will help but it will not be much more than the proverbial drop in the bucket and will cover only a small part of the needs of the University which is in dire circumstances waiting the action of the Legislature.

WILL THE COUNCIL ACT?

Have the men of Kentucky forgotten their characteristic honor? Is the traditional chivalry which has characterized Kentuckians since the beginning of time, dead? Have the men of Kentucky forgotten that it is their sacred duty to respect and honor the womanhood of the world and especially of Kentucky?

These are not aimless questions leading to no point but are brought out by the necessity of the Student Council to issue a warning and a threat to the men of this University that if their conduct at the Women's halls are not improved drastic punishment will be resorted to in order to force Kentuckians to be gentlemen.

A Kentuckian is, by nature, a gentleman and the qualities of courtesy and good breeding have always characterized him. Now it has become necessary to remember the fact that they are Kentuckians and it would be to their honor to act the part. We are with the Council in its demands for gentlemanly behavior. We, the students of the University voted to have the Council and we elected its members. We adopted the constitution and by so committing ourselves we agreed to live up to the rules therein. So far we have seen but little of the work of the Council and we have been anxiously waiting to observe whether the Council would act in such authority that it would show its teeth.

Old grads tell us that in the olden days there was little control exercised over the students because it was left to the faculty, who not knowing the men as they knew each other, could not enforce very good order. Later the Senior Court was organized to promote the good behavior of the students and it was to a great degree, successful. When the rules of good conduct on the campus were ignored the cannon became the repository of the culprit while he received a thorough application of the business end of many vigorously welded paddles. But the Senior Court is a thing of the past. It was alright in its day and it served the purpose for which it was intended but it is gone and its duties have been taken over by the Student Council which has the power to act in a more stately and dignified manner.

The whole question of the Council's warning is in reply to the complaints voiced by women students of the conduct of certain men students who frequent the Pat Hall dances in a condition which strangely suggests the imbibing of alcoholic refreshments. Then again some of the more thoughtless students have been so inconsiderate as to use the reception rooms of the halls for smoking rooms after the strenuous objection of the matrons.

This is a situation which should be relieved and as the Council has the power to oust any undesirables from the University we are of the opinion that if matters do not improve immediately, the guilty should suffer the full penalty for the offence.

MUSIC AND ART NOTES

The Men's Glee Club will open its season next Tuesday evening in the Music Rooms in White Hall under the direction of Professor Carl A. Lampert. Prospects for this year are brilliant, and the strong nucleus of last year's talent is supplemented by many new applicants who are working industriously for the success of the Club.

Plans are being made by Duerson Fendley, president of the organization for a tour of the state.

Orchestra practice Monday evening White Hall.

Beginning soon there will be given by the University a series of concerts in the chapel. These concerts have been given to the students free for the last two seasons offering the Popular Classical music, featuring soloist.

The Girls Glee Club, that found such splendid expression in the successful presentation of the opera Robin Hood at the Woodland Auditorium expects to continue work.

Prof. Lampert wishes to announce that they are forming a Society of the east and he offers a prize of $5 for the suggestion of the best name for this society.

In the Art Department there are on display two magnificent collections. The one of oils is on display in Miss Bates studio is the work of Allan Swisher, the artist who painted the portrait of Mrs. Desha Breckenridge that was presented to Kentucky Historical Society January 16, at Frankfort.

FRESHMEN WILL PLAY KENTUCKY WESLEYAN

Thursday evening January 19 the Freshmen Basketball Squad will leave for Winchester where they will play Kentucky Wesleyan. The squad will be in charge of "Daddy" Boles. A list of the men who will make the trip could not be given out at this time but it is probable that the entire squad will make the trip.

The Freshmen are determined that the defeat they suffered at the hands of the Seniors will be the last one this season and promise to battle the Clark County Quintet to a standstill.

WRESTLING TEAM HAS STRONG SCHEDULE

All the men are in the pink of condition and now that it is known who are on the regular squad are working with renewed vigor. A proof of the seriousness of the work is indicated by numerous scratches and bruises worn by the warriors of the mat. The men are fast developing under the guidance of Coach Enlow and it has been reported that they have been using the Wildcat mascot as a wrestling partner just to make things interesting, and are rarin' to go. The Schedule as arranged so far is as follows:

Jan. 28—University of Cincinnati at Lexington
Feb. 3—University of Indiana at Bloomington, Ind.
Feb. 11—Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware, Ohio.
Feb. 18—Ohio University at Lexington.

GOVERNOR SPEAKS BEFORE APPROPRIATION COMMITTEE

the men, women, and children of Kentucky.

For years we have recognized the need for better roads, greater schools and colleges, and more modern institutions of charity—but from year to year we have gone on patching the antiquated and inadequate because we lacked courage to venture a great investment whose dividends would have been new progress, new growth, and greater welfare and happiness for the people of Kentucky.

The cry for roads is imperative. At present the sum is not sufficient to complete the system desired. To meet the needs of the situation Governor Morrow recommends that the Legislature submit a $50,000,000 bond issue to the voters. Such a bond issue can be fully met, interest and principal, and paid off in thirty years by using the present sum available for roadbuilding purposes. Neighboring States have voted such bond issues. Kentucky should not be afraid to trust her people.

The States charitable and penal institutions are in a deplorable condition due to the patching policy. Kentucky, once far ahead in the care of her feeble minded, insane, and delinquent is now backward and negligent. The buildings are unsanitary, old, inadequate, unprotected against fire, and without necessary facilities for sleeping, eating, bathing, and heating. As a whole the Charitable Institutions do not and cannot meet the demands made upon them. It is a charge on the heart of every Kentuckian that the unfortunates, the delinquents, the insane are cared for so poorly.

Kentucky has neglected her schools. It is the imperative duty of the State to provide properly trained teachers for its children and to give its young men an opportunity of securing higher education. The present State institutions are not capable of fulfilling this duty. The institutions must be substantially extended, enlarged, and improved, or they must cease to function efficiently.

To put into good shape the State's charitable and educational institutions will require a large outlay of money—such a sum as can be raised only by an increase in the tax rate. The Governor is unwilling to recommend this—but he does recommend that the General Assembly submit to a vote of the people a bond issue of the exceeding $5,000,000 to be used for the purpose of supplying the needs of the State's public institutions.

Governor Morrow said in conclusion: "I am profoundly convinced that the time has come when we must have the courage to make an investment worthy of the present and the future possibilities of the State."

STROLLER CAST TO BE SELECTED

Milton Revill rendered assistance in the tryouts and was instrumental in helping to reduce the great number who tried out the early part of the week, and retaining only those individually suited for a role in the play. Revill, having played the leading role in former productions is possessed with unusual histrionic ability, and the Strollers are at loss because he will be graduated at the end of this semester.

Prof. Carol Sax has begun work on the costumes and scenery to be used in this production. The play requires elaborated stage setting and with the assistance of the students of the Art Department, Prof. Sax promises that this will be the most exquisite stage setting ever used in a Shroder production. Tom Fennell, overseer and designer will have complete supervision of the paintings.

George Rouse, stage manager will make appointments for the stage crew and the properties and equipment for the stage will be planned. All properties will be gathered as soon as possible to be used in the rehearsals.

Burton Prewitt, business manager has appointed William Blanton as his assistant and they have been busy booking dates for the production of the play to be given in neighboring towns. This will begin during the Easter holidays and will probably include in Winchester, Frankfort, Mt. Sterling, Paris, Middletown, Pineville, and other towns.

Nikola Tesla

THE NAME of Nikola Tesla will always be associated with the invention and earlier developments of the induction motor. In fact, at one time this type of apparatus was known almost exclusively as the "Tesla" motor.

Tesla devised this motor back near the beginnings of the electrical business, when practically everything was built by "cut and try" methods, and none of the accurate analytical processes of later days had been developed. It may be said broadly that Tesla knew two fundamental facts—first, that if a magnet were moved across a sheet of conducting metal, it would tend to drag this metal along; and, second, that the effects of such a moving magnet could be produced by suitably disposed polyphase currents acting on a stationary magnetic structure.

Perhaps others, at that time, also knew these two facts, but if so, apparently they knew them only as two isolated facts. Tesla considered them in combination and the result was the Tesla motor, or what is now known broadly as the "induction motor." These two facts, in combination, represent a fundamental conception, and all of the many millions of horsepower of induction motors in use today throughout the world, are based upon these two fundamentals.

Naturally, Westinghouse, having fought single handed to advance the alternating current system, was supremely interested in the new type of motor. What if the new motor did require polyphase circuits, while all existing circuits were single phase? What if it did require lower frequency than any existing commercial circuits? These were merely details of the future universal alternating system. The important thing was to obtain an ideally simple type of alternating current motor, which Tesla's invention offered. Tesla furnished the fundamental idea.

He and his associates, working for Mr. Westinghouse, proved that thoroughly operative induction motors could be built, provided suitable frequencies and phases were available. What matter if they did not produce an operative commercial system at the time? What matter if it needed the powerful analytical engineers of later date to bring the system to a truly practicable stage—men with intimate constructive knowledge of magnetic circuits—men on intimate terms with reactive coefficients and other magnetic attributes totally unknown to Tesla and his co-workers? In time the motor was made commercial, and it has been a tremendous factor in revolutionizing the electrical industry.

Probably no one electrical device has had more high-power analytical and mathematical ability expended upon it than the induction motor. The practical result has been one of the simplest and most effective types of power machinery in use today. Thus Tesla's fundamental ideas and Westinghouse's foresight have led to an enormous advance in the world's development.

Portrait of Late Mrs. Breckinridge Unveiled; Artist Instructs in University

Among those connected with the University who attended the joint session of Legislature on Monday, January 15 were Mrs. McVey, Miss Frances Jewell, Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, Miss Pauline Wherry and Mrs. Martin. A fitting memorial to the late Mrs. Madeline McDowell Breckinridge, whose portrait was unveiled, was a feature of the afternoon program.

The portrait which portrays Mrs. Breckinridge seated in an arm chair, is a beautiful work and excellent likeness. The artist from whose brush it came, Mr. Allen Swisher, has recently come to the University to assist in the Art Department. The portrait was given by the old Equal Rights Association to the Kentucky Historical Society. It was unveiled by the youngest son of the McDowell Family, William Stucky, and was presented by Mrs. E. L. Hutchison of Lexington and accepted by Governor Morrow with an appropriate tribute to Kentucky's greatest woman.

Those present at the session also had the privilege of hearing the recommendation of Governor Morrow for the $50,000,000 bond issue and the address to Legislature of Mrs. Maud Wood Parks of Washington, national president of the American League of Women Voters.

Book Store Investigation

"An investigation has been made of the University Book Store by the Men's Student Council for the purpose of protecting the students against high prices of books, paper, pencils and other articles and it was found that in no case has the student been overcharged. This investigation followed complaints made by the students who thought that the prices were too high, and it was found that not more than 10% has been charged over the net cost.

Many of the books were bought at "war time prices" and for that reason remain at a higher price than they would had they been bought this year. If there is any student who thinks that prices are too high, he is asked to report this to the Mens' Student Council.

Signed: John Crenshaw, Pres."

The Department of Hygiene and Public Health reports that there are many people in the city who are ill with colds similar to influenza. There are also many students in the University suffering with slight colds. All who have a cold, no matter how trivial, are urged to report at the Dispensary at once so as to avoid giving it to others. Colds are very dangerous as they may develop into serious disease.

Southern Champions Fail in First Game of the Season

The truth of the old saying that nothing is impossible was again demonstrated when the Georgetown Tigers defeated the Kentucky Wildcats to the tune of 26 to 17 last Saturday evening in the University Gymnasium.

The Wildcats went into the fray with two stellar players, Hayden and Ridgeway, abesent from the lineup. Confident in their ability to cope with the Georgetown Tigers, this fact caused no worry. At the beginning of the game it seemed as if Kentucky had a walkaway, but the Wildcats' passing was not up to standard and after a brief space of time Georgetown was able to break up Kentucky's pass work. Before long the aggressiveness of the visitors began to tell, and the absence of the old stars was keenly felt.

The Tigers from the first displayed a strong attack and excellent defense. With everything to gain and nothing to lose they went into the game with little or no nervousness. Even this, however, failed to gain anything for them at first, and after the first three minutes of play Kentucky had a 7 to 0 lead.

A short time after this Georgetown called time-out to rest, and get together. The Tigers evidently talked over the situation for they went back into the game with renewed strength and at the end of the first half the score was tied at 12 to 12. Adkins was apparently watched closer than any other player on the Wildcat squad, being covered at all times.

The second half was not unlike the first, Georgetown, after the first few minutes of play, took the lead and held it. All during the second half the plucky Wildcats fought desperately to overcome this lead, but were unable to do so and the game ended 26 to 17 in the Tigers' favor.

The lineup is as follows:

Georgetown	Kentucky
Funk (C)	W. King
Daniels	K. King
Jacoby	C. Adkins
Porter	(C) Lavin
Kemper	Burnham

Substitutes—Kentucky, Poyntz for K. King; Smith for Poyntz.

Fuls—Georgetown, Funk, 4 out of 6; Kentucky, W. King 3 out of 9; Lavin 3 out of 6.

Referee—Pat Devereaux.

"I have your letter, my adorable love.
It has filled my heart with joy Since
I left you I have been sad all the time.
My only happiness is near you. I go ever endlessly in my thought your kisses, your tears, your delicious jealousy. The charm of my wonderful Josephine kind-les a living blazing fire in my heart and senses. When shall I be able to pass every moment near you, with nothing to do but love you and nothing to think of but the pleasure of telling you of it and giving you proof of it? I fancied that I loved you some time ago; but since then I feel that I love you a thousand times better. Ever since I have known you, I adore you more every day. That proves how wrong is that saying of La Bruyere, "Love came all of a sudden." Ah, let me see some of your faults: be less beautiful, less graceful, less tender, less good. But never be jealous and never shed tears. Your tears send me out of my mind—they set my very blood on fire. Believe me that it is utterly impossible for me to have a single thought that is not yours, a single fancy that is not submissive to your will. Rest well. Restore your health. Come back to me and then at any rate before we die we ought to be able to say: We were happy for so very many days.—Millions of kisses, even to your dog.

A Love Letter Written
100 Years Later

Thursday.

Darling:-

It has been many a moon since I have taken the pen in hand to write to you, but I have thought of you until my whole being is afire, and now I must.

You may have heard, you may not; I have been ill and during the long hours spent in bed I was lonesome and had much time to think and my thoughts of you were the most pleasant. I'd go over the times I'd seen you, from the first untill the last. I loved you deeply, so I thought. Our affair was beautiful! It was truly sacred to me, dear, and even now, despite the fact that I have been hurled into the abyss with other jilted lovers, my soul belongs to you.

Once not long ago, I opened my heart to you and the truth poured out, but not knowing how you would feel I was in no position to send such a message to you. You loved me, I loved you, we were happy. I was never happier, believe me Little Comrade, than when those moments of bliss passed into golden hours—days and nights that we were together.

You say your love for me has flown.
That cannot be. Remember the afternoons spent near the swing on the side of the lake. Remember how we would dive into the lake and far under the surface love for minutes. The hours spent on the mountain top with the whole earth at our feet and love throbbing in our hearts, the days spent in loving, wrestling, playing, caressing, and telling each other the things that only youth and love will dictate, and how with kisses you'd draw my whole soul through my lips as sunlight drinkest dew.

My love is as deep as the ocean and when I used to take you in my arms every nerve in my body would tingle; you were wonderful. You are the very essence of my life and without you I am miserable. Soon you will realize that froth and tinsel are poor substitutes and you will return to the love which means happiness.

Waiting.

CARDINAL BASKETEERS TO PLAY HERE JAN. 21

Sprained Ankle Will Keep "Chuck" Rice Out of Game

The fourth game of the season will be played here Saturday January 21 when the Kentucky Wildcats clash with the University of Louisville in the University Gymnasium. The game will be called at 8 o'clock p. m. This will be the second game with the Cardinals this season and they are expected to put up a bitter struggle to even up the defeat they suffered at the hands of the Wildcats last Tuesday.

The Wildcat Squad will arrive here from Nashville at 8:40 p. m. Thursday evening and will have only two days of practice before the game. Coach Buchheit, however, is not overlooking any bets and promises to give the boys a light work out in the lay over in Louisville Thursday afternoon.

Following the Georgetown game the squad was cut almost in half and a new mentor added in "Chuck" Rice who is trying out for forward. "Chuck" sprained his ankle in Monday's practice which totals those on the team's sick list to three. Ridgway who is now at his home in Shepherdsville was operated on last week and it is uncertain when he will be able to resume his place. Hayden's knee is still bothering him, but he could not stay out of practice any longer and returned to work on the squad Monday afternoon.

The team is now working in its old form and promises to run up an even higher score on the Cardinals in the coming game than they did last Tuesday.

The probable lineup is as follows:

Kentucky	Louisville
W. King	Jones
K. King	Scheingold
Adkins	Osborne
Burnham	Carter
Lavin	Silverstein
Pat Deveraux will referee.

COMMODORES TAKE GAME FROM WILDCATS

Commodores Defense Too Much For Champs and Kentuckians Lose By 22-12

The Vanderbilt basket ball quintet, playing in its best form defeated the University of Kentucky net combination, champions of the South, 22 to 12, Wednesday night before one of the largest crowds that ever graced a court contest at Nashville. The Commodores took the lead at the start and were never threatened by the visitors.

The guarding of Ryan and Brown was responsible in a large measure for the small score of the Kentucky team, which annexed only three field goals during the match. Two of these goals were far registered by Bill King, who also scored six foul throws.

The Wildcats seemed unable to break up the Vandy passing game and were never able to get close to the goal, making practically all their shots from a distance. In the first half Vanderbilt scored 16 points to 5 for Kentucky. In the final period The Commodores hung on to their advantage by resorting to a defensive game, which baffled the visitors. Kentucky made 7 points in the last half to 6 for Vanderbilt.

Bell, Vandy forward, was the leader in the local's victory, contributing 12 points with five field goals and two fouls. Brown surprised the Bluegrass lads by slipping four goals thru the wicker. Bill King was the star performer of the Kentuckians, putting up one of the best games ever seen on a Nashville floor. The team work of the visitors was far below the form displayed in the Atlanta tournament last February. The absence of Hayden and Ridgway no doubt hurt the Wildcats' chances.

The lineup:
Kentucky (12) Vanderbilt (22)
W. King (10)..... F..... Bell (12)
K. King F..... Thomas (C)
Adkins (2) C..... Embry (2)
Lavin (C) G..... Brown (8)
Burnham G..... Ryan
Substitutions: Kentucky—Fest for Adkins, Smith for K. King.

TRUE, TRUE!

"Now, gentlemen," began the professor in the detail school that had been opened in the vocational training area, "What class of persons habitually suffer from acid mouth?"

And the class answered as one man: "First sergeants, sir!"
